SITUATION SUMMARY

Flood Operation Center(FOC), Department of Water Resources (DWR), Prepositioning of Resources and Personnel (Continued)

- The next river forecast will be issued on 11/26/18. Minor rises are forecast on the main stem rivers.
- Flood Operations Branch (FOB) staff are assisting DWR's Security and Emergency Management Program to fulfill four Cal OES mission tasks for assistance with burn scar areas:
 - Flood fight materials to Chico Airport:
 - Two containers were delivered to the Chico staging area on Sunday, 11/18/18. Material from the containers was delivered to Paradise yesterday, 11/19/18.
 - An additional 64 rolls of Visqueen were delivered to the Chico staging area by Sutter Yard staff at 1530 hours on 11/19/18.
 - Flood fight materials to Butte County Fairgrounds:
 - Flood Fight Specialist directed CCC crews to place sand bags around temporary shelters.
 - Sutter Maintenance Yard staff are delivering sandbags to three shelter locations (two in Chico, one in Orland) for use in temporary shelter protection.
 - 8,000 sandbags were requested to be staged at the Butte County Fairgrounds in Gridley to protect the temporary housing for evacuees against potential flooding.
 - Two flood fight material containers are already located at the fairgrounds with 12,000 sandbags each.
 - Cal OES coordinated the transportation to pick up 5,000 sandbags from the Butte County Fairgrounds in Gridley to be delivered to the Nazarene Church in Oroville.
 - Flood fight materials to Evacuation Centers in Chico and Orland:
 - Sutter Maintenance Yard staff arrived at Neighborhood Church in Chico at approximately 1400 hours to deliver 5,000 sandbags. From there they will deliver 10,000 sandbags to the East Avenue Church in Chico, and 4,000 sandbags to the Glenn County Fairgrounds in Orland.
 - Flood fight materials to Los Alamitos:
 - Cal OES requested two flood fight material containers to be pre-deployed near the Cal OES Regional Operations Center in Los Alamitos.
 - Four containers are already staged at this location. Staff is available to provide access if needed.
 - Staff:
 - Flood Fight Specialist will assess four additional shelter locations (two in Chico, one in Oroville, and one in Orland) and provide recommendations for temporary shelter protection.
 - Four flood fight specialists (two from North Region Office and two from DFM) have been identified to provide technical assistance on Visqueen placement to cover burned parcels to prevent hazardous materials from being washed into waterways. Two are on site in Paradise as of 11/20/18 and two are available for future deployment if needed.
 - Three safety engineers have been identified to evaluate field and working conditions. One has been deployed to Chico, and two are available for future deployment, if needed.
- FOB staff will continue to monitor and assist through the holiday weekend as needed.
- Updates will be provided if necessary.
- Precipitation can be monitored at the following website: http://cdec.water.ca.gov/california_burn_areas.html.

WEATHER OF CONCERN

Northern California

- Patches of dense fog have developed across portions of the Central Valley, mainly from the Sacramento area southward.
- Wet weather returns to the region Tuesday and continues through the remainder of the week.
 - Precipitation expected to remain generally light Tuesday night and Wednesday, but stronger system is forecast to approach Wednesday night and Thursday.

Southern California

- Elevated fire weather conditions over portions of southern California coastal areas today.
 - Dry conditions and low humidity will continue today.
 - Northeast winds gusting 30 mph across wind prone areas of Cajon Pass and eastern Orange County with elevated fire weather conditions.
 - Winds will decrease tonight and Tuesday, however humidity will remain low.
- The heaviest rain over southern California will be Wednesday and Thursday.
 - Minor urban flooding, and mud and rockslides cannot be ruled out in and around the recent burn areas.
- Snow levels will remain high through much of the system, dropping to near 4500-5500 feet between Friday and Saturday. Up to a foot of snow will be possible on isolated peaks with this system.

WEATHER SYNOPSIS BY REGION

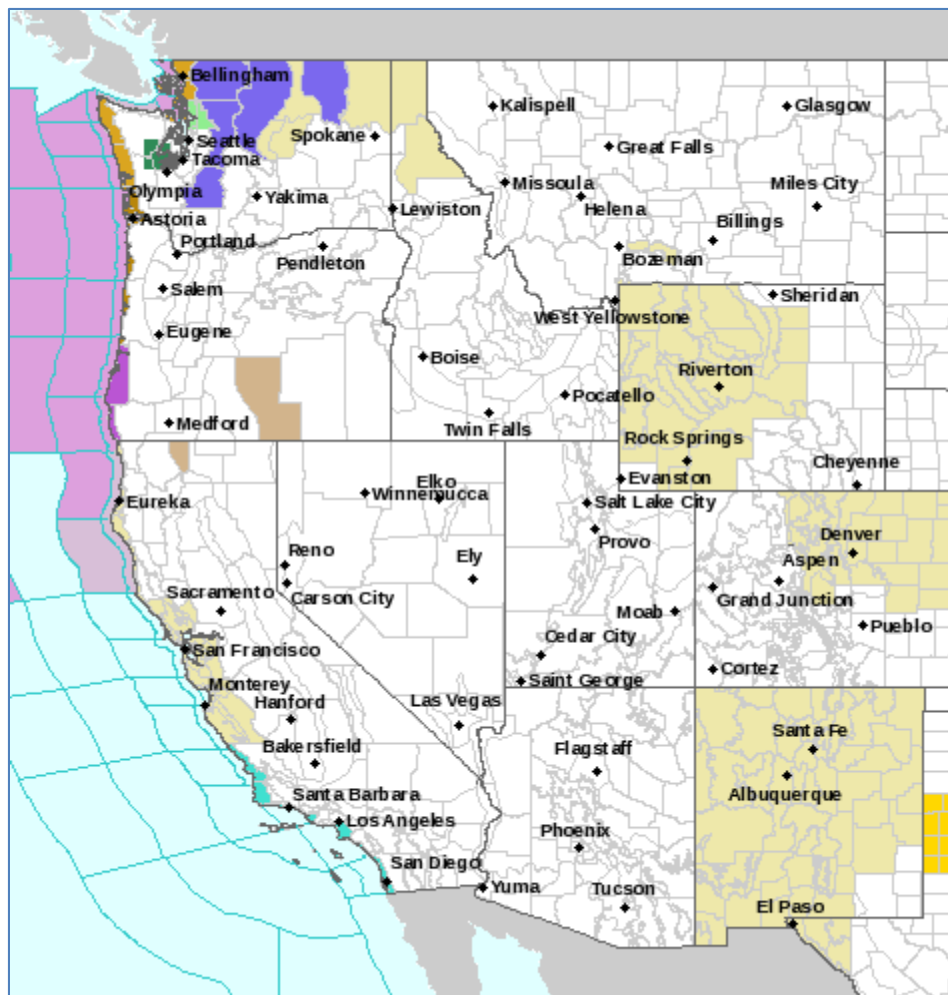

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA

- Valley fog possible next couple of mornings.
- Dry through early next week with next chance of precipitation spreading over the forecast area Tuesday.
- Heavier precipitation and lower snow levels possible next Thursday for mountain travel impacts.
- An active weather pattern is forecast to redevelop by Tuesday.
- Rain will likely spread into the North Bay on Tuesday morning and then south across the rest of the region Tuesday afternoon and evening.
- Rain with this first system is expected to be mostly light to moderate in intensity with lightest amounts South Bay and Central Coast.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

- The northeast winds will be strongest through and below passes and canyons today, while a weak sea breeze still visits coastal areas each afternoon.
- Tuesday very dry air will be in place across the mountains and valleys, but the winds will drop off and trend back onshore by afternoon.
- Skies will be fair and temperatures a few degrees above average early this week. by Wednesday cooling will begin as onshore flow strengthens and the marine air moves farther inland.
- A low pressure trough speeding across the Pacific should arrive by Thursday with periods of rain, mountain snow, and gusty westerly winds over the mountains and deserts. Dry by next weekend.
